For Tennessee and the Ohio valley, cloudy weather with rain or snow, followed by clearing weather, with shifting in colder northerly, and rising barometer.

"WOMEN-PROOF COTTON" is the latest article. The seed of it is now being offered for sale.

In 1870 the southern States represented twenty-five per cent. of the population of the Union; by the census of 1880 they represent twenty-seven per cent.

A BRIDGE over the Arkansas river to connect Fort Smith and Van Buren has become a necessity. The growing traffic between the two places demands it.

The renowned partisan, Colonel John S. Mody, now consul-general to China, is spoken of as the next Republican candidate for governor of Virginia.

The London Spectator says the Irish have the English because the nervous, excitable, and more energetic of the latter, stronger and more barbarous.

PETTERSBURG did well on Tuesday to elect a Democratic mayor by 1500 majority. But it would have done better had it elected a Democratic board of aldermen and councilmen.

It takes nearly 200,000 acres of forest to supply cross-ties for the railroads of the United States. At this rate how long will it be before the forests are consumed, and then what?

CONGRESSMEN visit to Memphis on Thursday morning. Levi P. Morton, of New York, for secretary of the treasury, and James M. Smith, of Ohio, for the interior.

RAMBER, who has just published at Leipzig the first two volumes of his history of the world, is in his eighty-sixth year, and is consequently the most wonderful living example of literary activity and ambition.

MEMPHIS is not the only place where the people complain of the sidewalk. Those of Chicago loudly declare against a condition which they say is really, especially of the north, west and south divisions of the city.

The Land League has accomplished more in the last six months than Fenianism could in a thousand years. It has made the fight for Irish independence respectable, and has compelled a bill by Gladstone for the amelioration of the condition of the peasantry.

The Wilmington Gazette thinks that perhaps this year's floods will warn people against building on low ground near rivers. The great means to compel England to do for her the same as she does for her colonies, is to let her see that she is not doing it.

The Pennsylvania Republicans are tired of "blue" rule; they refuse in the legislature at Harrisburg to elect a senator of Cameron's selection, and at Philadelphia on Tuesday they helped to elect a Democratic mayor by 6000 majority, a gain of 20,000 votes, as the Garfield majority in that city was 20,000.

ACCORDING to the Washington Post a great many necessary measures of legislation have been passed during the session, but by the absence of Democratic members, who preferred a chair in one or the other of the neighboring bar-rooms to their seat in the house.

And yet these same men will ask to be re-elected.

The Nashville Banner asks: "Why is it that a magazine devoted to literature cannot thrive in the south?" Because no one of the ventures so far made in that direction compares with Hesperia, Spectator, or the Atlantic Monthly, and the people of the south will not sustain anything in the form of a magazine less than those in literary excellence, printing or illustrations.

PANZELL and Justin McCarthy are not at all as the solution of Ireland's present difficulties. The latter will be satisfied with the three P's, whereas the former says that the object is to have a very constitutional and very moderate government, and to do for her what Austria has done for Hungary.

Some such system between England and Ireland may deep thinkers believe to be the only ultimate solution of the Irish question.

A SHORT time ago Rev. T. B. Eby, a worthy Baptist minister and editor of a journal printed in the interest of his denomination, died in Little Rock, leaving a widow and family of little children in straitened circumstances. Through the exertions of Mr. George R. Brown, of the editorial staff of the Little Rock Democrat, a handsome man has been raised for their relief. The young gentleman married and has the good wishes of his fellow-citizens for his efforts in behalf of the stricken family.

MR. DAVID S. GREEN, father of Hon. Hugh Green and uncle of Mr. James M. Green, one of the oldest settlers in Western Tennessee, died on Thursday morning, and was buried yesterday in the family lot in Elwood cemetery. He was in his seventy-seventh year, and died by a large circle of relatives and friends. His life, though holly uneventful from a public view, was at without good results to his country. He was a patient, industrious, and law-abiding citizen, who by his industry acquired a handsome competence, and thus set an example of prudence, energy and thrift.

AS THIS country becomes aware of the danger and loss our national standard and flag is suffering from the almost disappearance of the American flag from the ocean and from foreign shores, indignation is kindled against the stupid laws and regulations which have led to so deplorable a result. Happily the principal remedy is a very easy one to apply. It is simply to do shipping what we do to other branches of commerce and industry, and to let the flag be often used by locomotives that were built broad, cotton-factory and many tools and appliances of foreign make; "we have to do the same with the ships, which are the life of the nation. With that simple change our flag receives a new impulse, our influence abroad attains a wider scope, and our commerce is increased in respect. Those who profit by the monopoly they have secured under the obsolete system which we have hitherto conformed to, oppose by change with all their might. When, in hard storm and a high tide, the Atlantic fleet is wrecked, the Atlantic system is wrecked. The Atlantic is the life of the nation. The Atlantic is the life of the nation. The Atlantic is the life of the nation.

DEYER GRAY moved an amendment providing that no member of parliament be imprisoned during the sitting of parliament without the consent of the house.

Gladstone denied there was any ancient privilege of members with regard to criminal offenses. He said it would be impolitic and unconstitutional to make the house judge of the grounds of suspicion against any of its members.

Gray's amendment was rejected. On motion of Gray, an amendment was inserted requiring the arrest of any member to be communicated to the house.

The amendment to exclude women and children from the operation of the act was rejected—230 to 40.

This evening Northcott arose, and said conservative, and said that many of his party, although approving Gladstone's motion, would be embarrassed by the new rules.

The speaker will reply at the next sitting. The consideration of the petition bill was resumed in committee, and Playfair, deputy speaker, ruled a number of amendments inadmissible, particularly the amendment by which home-made goods proposed to exempt his particular constituency from the operation of the act. The first clause of the bill was then adopted by a vote of 302 to 44.

THREE PER CENT.

Wins the Battle in the Senate, and the Funding Bill is Passed by that Body—The Republican Caucus and the Appropriation Bill—Pence Indian Talk.

The Administration Fulfills Its Part of the Bargain Made with Conkling and His Stalwart Followers—Elliot F. Shepard Nominated in Place of Foster.

WASHINGTON, February 18.—Receipts of internal revenue, $344,394; customs, $613,750.

THE RAIDS AND THE APPROPRIATION BILL.
The Republicans of the house failed to get a caucus last evening on the appropriation bill, but will make another effort this evening. It is evident that many Republicans will not be bound by the caucus on this bill, and that it will pass the house by a narrow margin at the latest.

THE PENCE INDIANS.
The house committee on Indian affairs decided, owing to the lateness of the session, not to report the bill for the relief of the Pence Indians, but to instruct the committee to report the appropriation committee to make an appropriation of $100,000 to be used in carrying out the agreement with the Pence.

IN PLACE OF FOSTER.
Elliot F. Shepard has been nominated United States marshal for the southern district of New York, in place of Foster, whose name had been withdrawn.

WILL BE BURIED IN NEW YORK.
The remains of Fernando Wood arrived this morning, and now lie in the parlour of the house of the treasury secretary at New York. There will be no public ceremony. The body will be taken to New York for interment.

PROSPECTS OF THE FUNDING BILL.
Leading members of the ways and means committee of the house say the funding bill, as passed the senate, will go through the house without difficulty, and that the bill will be passed by a large majority.

A DEEPER BREAK FOR LIBERTY.
GALVESTON, February 18.—Seven American prisoners in jail at Paso Del Norte, Mexico, made a break this morning, shooting the guard dead and running toward the Mexican coast. The prisoners were taken back by the guards, who fired upon them. The prisoners were killed and the others arrested.

The LaPrade Murders, Five in Number, Taken from the Custody of the Sheriff by a Mob at Springfield and Hanged to the Rattling of the Courthouse.

Special to the Appeal.
NASHVILLE, February 18.—Hearings—As yesterday the entire morning session was consumed in the introduction of new business.

A resolution to refer all matters relating to the State debt to a special committee was tabled.

A resolution adopted by the Memphis conference at Trenton asking for the passage of a bond option law, which would enable a bondholder to sell his bond at a price of 100 cents, was rejected.

A strong case is to be made over the bill which passed the second reading in the house to repeal the law relating to the sale of temperance, Mr. Cooper, from Williamson and Maury, having told Mr. Hayes, the author, that he had been strenuously opposed to its passage.

Moss, Watkins, Thompson, Cook, Eaton and Hawkins were named in a special committee to devise means to more effectively collect taxes.

AMUSEMENTS.

Sarah Bernhardt in From-From.
Notwithstanding the most miserable weather, the theatre was crowded with many of the streets, a very large and fashionable audience assembled at the Theatre Royal, French opera house, to see Sarah Bernhardt.

The play was From-From, and the resources of our meager stage considered it was fairly novel, and by the company was admirably presented. A few minutes past the usual time the expectation of the audience was gratified by the raising of the curtain, which revealed a maid looking out upon the highway and describing the race between "Gilbert and Valere."

A moment and the former entered hurriedly, and setting the Moniteur upon a table, he proceeded to read the paper. The second, second, picture was a challenge to the audience, but received very slight applause. Later it was the audience was taken away, and the incident so telling passed with but slight regard, and that but from a few hands.

A few words and the servant is dismissed, and "Gilbert and Valere" are left to themselves. The play is a comedy, and is at once hurried forward through a series of engaging interest, full of telling and amusing incidents, and the audience is denoted the most delicious and delightful.
